Highlights:

- Brandon H, on behalf of the DBMS iTC, presented a draft of the new collaborative PP-Module for DBMS in the Cloud.

Old Business:

- Review of previous meeting minutes.

New Business:

- Maureen B provided status update on DBMS cPP.
 - o The latest version of the cPP has been published for a couple years and products have been certified against it.
 - o The new Cloud module is a priority to incorporate in addition to CC2022.
- Brandon H presented a draft version of the new collaborative PP-Module for DBMS in the Cloud.
 - o This PP-module was built directly around the CCitC guidance for Cloud Evaluations and heavily relied on the concepts described in the document.
 - o PP-configurations to include the Base DBMS cPP and optional Crypto, Cloud, and DBaaS modules.
 - o This draft is currently being circulated among the DBMS iTC for review and will also be released to the Cloud-TC for a review and comment period before being released publicly.
 - o A 2 month review/comment period will be available for Cloud-TC members to provide feedback. Comments should be submitted by next Cloud-TC meeting in May via logged issue in GitHub. Josh will send an email to all members to confirm the location of the PP-Module draft in the Cloud-TC GitHub.
- The EU Cyber Acts conference is taking place March 24-26th in Brussels. Josh B will be attending and participating in a panel discussion on the implementation of EUCC and current updates.
